

What 2009 travelers to Vietnam & Cambodia had to say:

Entire cruise was exceptional – staff, food, and route. Walk at Angkor Wat finishing the trip was a highlight. Loved navigating Saigon street crossings and the markets. Great routes to see local life – especially loved stops at wedding prep party and school along route.

Trip exceeded expectations.

Valerie (Seattle, WA)

Highlights – Cu Chi tunnels, Cham Village, Ankor Wat, the wedding party in Kampong Tralach – finally understanding Cambodia! Morning walk in Sa Dec was great! Angkor Wat – wonderful.

(WAI provides) the opportunity to see how ordinary people live with in-depth info about history, customs, etc.

Andrea (Corpus Christi, TX)

Did not know what to expect, but was pleasantly surprised. This tour was terrific in all respects. I felt honored to see Vietnam and Cambodia “up close.” Dan’s leadership was great and my co-travelers delightful. All walks were good. Guides were uniformly good. Food outstanding.

In short – no complaints.

Diana (Seattle, WA)

The RV Indochine was superb. The staff so friendly and helpful. The food was excellent. The Saigon Walk and Phnom Penh walks showed us the cities and the Island walks the countryside. The best of both worlds. The surprise modes of transport – the cycles, the tuc-tucs, and the Brahma bull wagon rides were special to us. It made us feel part of the country.

We expect to travel with you again as long as our health is good. The boss always does excellent work!! Thanks, Dan and Debbie.

Anna (Ontario, CANADA)

Cruising on the R/V Indochine was a wonderful experience! The walks afforded different city and rural contrasts in both countries. Walking in Vietnam and Cambodia after such major upheavals in both countries in the past 30 years provided rare insights into how these resilient cultures are reshaping their respective countries. A “must see” experience to do now while the transformation is ongoing.

Lee (Rockville, MD)

The walks were a wonderful way to experience a slice of life in these countries. We were able to reach beyond the normal “tourist” experiences and actually interact with the local people. The guides did an excellent job of informing us about the local areas. They were all very, very knowledgeable. I can’t think of anything that needs change or improvement.

(WAI is) organized, safe, informal, an educational experience, (I feel) comfortable traveling as a single woman. WAI has evolved into a first-rate travel experience in the past 20 years.

Karen (Portland, OR)

The R/V Indochine experience was way above expectations – great service and food; wonderful itinerary. A major highlight of this trip is the enjoyment derived from our wonderful travel companions. We have really loved the camaraderie, the great dinner conversation.

We look forward to more WAI trips.

Mike (Seattle, WA)

Loved the walks through the markets and villages. The Vietnam/Cambodia trip was truly an adventure and another great cultural experience. The children touched my heart with their smiles and hellos. Cruising the Mekong with the many floating villages will forever be a favorite memory. Although this was a very different tour, it was up to WAI's standards of being well-planned, off the beaten path, and great history info along the way. I'd love to repeat this tour someday.

(WAI trips are) well-planned, with full and organized days, and off the beaten track opportunities. I'm afraid of being disappointed if I tried another tour company. I'll be back again and again!

Margie (Gaithersburg, MD)

I really enjoyed traveling by riverboat. Dan is an exceptional guide – no improvements needed!

(I travel with WAI because of)

THE WALKS – We always see interesting stuff – all the “must haves” and then other places that are off the beaten track.

THE OTHER TRAVELERS – Walkers make good company. Also, I like that so many of your clients are repeat travelers – I enjoy seeing familiar faces on the trips.

THE LOGISTICS – WAI takes care of all the bothersome details: I just show up and have fun without the hassle of planning and organizing.

Margaret (Belmont, MA)

R/V Indochine staff were exceptional! My visit to Vietnam and Cambodia was one of the most educational that I have ever been on. The culture, the history, geography and religion – all were superbly related to us by our guides. Beautiful countries.

I always feel that with WAI I am part of the tour – a secure feeling. That I am important, and cared for.

Lori (Manassas, VA)